WEST VIRGINIA BRIEFS

WELCH: Alex Mayhew came within an inch of losing his life when he was treed by a bear while hunting with a party of friends in the Mountain Lake region. Mayhew got lost from the rest of the party, but was found later climbing a tree with a bear at his heels. In his excitement he had dropped his shotgun. With two well-directed shots, fellow hunters killed the animal.

MARTINSBURG: The return of warmer weather, accompanied by a thaw and rain is not looked upon as a blessing by fruit growers of the eastern counties of West Virginia. It is feared that a few more days of this kind of weather will bring buds to such a size and maturity that a subsequent hard freeze would seriously damage the prospects for the 1916 crop.

CHARLESTON: It took a postcard mailed at Manila, a small town in Boone county, one year to travel forty-eight miles to this city. The card was mailed to Mrs. Cora C. Lewis here, and no reason is known why it should take so long for the card to travel such a short distance.

MOONSVILLE: The Foster Glass Company, employing about 1,500 persons, and the United States Stamping Company, employing about 1,000, two of the largest manufacturing plants here were forced to suspend operations on account of the shortage of gas. They were permitted to use only fifty per cent of the usual supply of gas and were unable to operate on that.

CHARLESTON: A committee of five men will be appointed by President John P. White, of the United Mine Workers of America to confer with 3,000 miners in the Kanawha field, who seceded from the union several months ago, and formed a new organization. It is said by some seceders that since the international organization has refused them recognition the majority are willing to return to the old organization.

HUNTINGTON: Jumping eighteen feet from a window of Magistrate T. C. Rogers's office to a paved alley below, Earl Swinn, 21, just held for burglary, fractured bones in his feet and was seriously injured, but he ran a block before being captured.

PARKERSBURG: Jacob Zumbach, former postmaster at Helvetia, Randolph county, was sentenced by Judge A. G. Dayton in federal district court here to serve two years in the penitentiary for embezzling more than $3,000 of postoffice funds and also to pay a fine equal to the amount embezzled.

WHEELING: Because of a threatened strike, the shops of the Western Maryland railroad have been closed. The employees, who recently got a raise in wages, demanded another and threatened to walk out, but the company beat them to it by closing the shops.

HUNTINGTON: Ground will be broken in a few days for the erection of three down draft kilns at the West Virginia Paving and Pressed Brick Company's plant, the construction of a pig mill, and other improvements, costing $80,000 and doubling the size of the plant.

CHARLESTON: A writ of prohibition has been awarded by the supreme court of appeals on petition of the Sovereign Coal Company restraining a Cabin Creek Justice from hearing suits against the company brought by ten miners. The company

WHEELING: The county here have been asked to determine whether or not Captain William H. Parker of the Wheeling high school, who died in a football game at Buckhannon with the high school team in that city, died as a result of an accident, following the filing of a suit by Joseph N. J. Parker, father of the boy, for $1,200 against the North American Accident Insurance Company.

The money is the amount of an accident policy carried by young Parker. Parker was compelled to leave the game and a short time after being taken from the field died of a ruptured blood vessel in the head. The insurance company contends the death was not the result of an accident.

NOTICE.
Local union No. 135 U. B. of O. and J. will hold another open meeting in their hall in the Irwin Building Saturday, January 28, at 7:30 o'clock. All union and non-union carpenters are asked to attend this meeting. Also all union men of the order, including JOHN L. JACOBY.
